ENGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY.

WITH THE PUNJI AND MANDARIN TRANSLATION.

An At-Home Chinese published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

For comprehensive and practical service this Work stands unequalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extensive tables. Each and every word is fully explained, and defined according to the student of this difficult language, absolutely without examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto published.

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is complete, that a reference to it by persons enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested in China, it cannot but be invaluable occasionally.

If comprises upwards of two thousand large quarto pages.

A large REDUCTION in PRICE is made to Purchasers of SIX or more Copies.

LONDON: TRUBNER & Co., 50, PATERNOSTER ROW.
